New York, June 29.—Six steamers left this port to-day for Europe. All the vessels were loaded to their utmost capacity. The grain and cheese shipments were much beyond the average, the former aggregating about 220,000 bushels, and the latter over 60,000 boxes. Of this amount the two National steamers took out no less than 150,000 bushels between them, and the White Star steamer alone in dragades a nearly every important point.
